A REQUEST.

Will not each member of the family, as soon as practicable after receiving this book, examine carefully the part most familiar to himself or herself? While every care has been taken to insure correctness, some mistakes are inevitable. Please make note of all such, however trifling; and send word to me. To all who will do this (or notify me that no errors are found) I shall mail a new list of "Additions and Corrections" as complete as can be made up, thus adding very much to the permanent value of the book, and at no trouble or expense to yourself beyond sending notice.

Please attend to this at once.

P R E F A C E .

IT is not the purpose in these pages to enter upon a defence or justification of the study of genealogy—those who are fond of declaring that they do not know their grandparents' names and never felt any interest to inquire, will hardly read this book at all.

Equally remote is it from our thought to boast of our pedigree, as springing from the titled or wealthy classes of the past. The various families herein mentioned are representatives of that sturdy race which peopled New England in the 17th century, and in the 19th has carried abroad a reputation for independence of thought, industry and general intelligence, that is quite its own.

We may even claim that a good share of the strength, the virtues and the courage of this ancestry is alive to-day in the present representatives of these families, and perhaps this is as truly a source of pride as any we could name.

This publication marks the completion of a work begun over ten years ago, the expression of an interest awakened long before by talks with my father, whose love for his family was ever deep and strong. While it is true that for much of this period the material has lain neglected, yet the purpose has never been abandoned.

The gathering of data has a fascination in itself, though the amount of labor involved is comprehensible only to those who have tried it for themselves. And the meeting with new found kindred, leading in some instances to lasting friendship, is perhaps the greatest reward of such service.

Much of the information here given, especially that relating to the earlier generations, was learned from lips now forever silent. The very meeting and converse with these elders has been an inspiration.

In plan the present work differs from the ordinary family history in that it is not concerned with any one family name, but carries out to the present in every line the descendants of one 18th century couple.

From the outset the purpose has been to avoid what is found in some genealogies, mere lists of names and dates (and occasionally even the latter are largely wanting). As far as possible a brief sketch is inserted of each member of the family. Naturally, on the other hand, it has been quite out of the question to admit extended biographies.

There has been a special effort to bring the record in each case down to the year 1902. Out of over 400 living adults, not over half a dozen have failed to be reached with inquiries.

In general the family has shown a commendable pride and interest; sometimes after vexatious delay; while in a few cases there has been an utter neglect to notice my queries. No known means have been left untried to insure completeness.

Regarding the ancestry of those who married into the family in early generations, explanation is due that I have been able to spare but little time for this work, and have accepted, generally without verification, what seemed the best authorities.

A few words about the scheme of arrangement: each family (parents and children) is given a separate Arabic numeral, beginning with "1" for Eleazer and Huldah (Chandler) Flagg and extending to "310". First under each number comes the father's full name, while the name of the parent, whether father or mother, who is by birth a member of the family, is printed in heavy type, followed by a superior figure indicating the generation. The children are placed last, with Roman numerals denoting order of birth. When a child has no issue (whether or not married), full record is inserted in this place; those having children are briefly noticed here, and receive a special Arabic number in the margin, and full entry farther on in order.

This enables one to readily follow down to all descendants of a given person. For tracing back to ancestors, the tables on pages 3-7 are employed, which at the same time show relationship to other lines. To facilitate their use, reference is given by number to the specific table; and for generations below the fifth, the descent from an ancestor in that generation.

Grateful acknowledgment is due to those who have manifested special interest in the work and have been at considerable trouble to help me :—among the older members of the family, first to my beloved father, whose interest and encouragement formed one of the strongest reasons for undertaking it; to Mrs. Rebecca (Hunt) Roberts, Dr. Otis F. Presbrey, Mrs. Louisa (Goddard) Knowlton, Edmund S. Holbrook, Esq., and Rev. James Tufts, Jr., all of whom have since passed away.

Of those still living, I am under special obligations to my cousin and brother-in-law, Walter N. Waters, who has gathered most of the material for the line of Huldah (Flagg) Waters; also to Mr. Jason Waters, Mrs. Blanche M. (Stone) Putnam, Miss Lurenthia M. Hawks, Miss Gertrude E. Flagg, Miss Theodora Rust, Mrs. Martha M. (Goddard) Seymour, Dr. Edward Goddard, Mrs. Nancy G. (Brooks) Dolliver, Mrs. Jennie A. (Brooks) Seaver, my aunt Mrs. Maria O. (Flagg) Hunt, Miss Ellen M. Fiske, Mr. William B. Fiske, Miss Mary Newton and many others.

ABBREVIATIONS.

The usual abbreviations are used : b. for born ; co. for company or county ; d. for died ; dau. for daughter ; m. for married ; rem. for removed ; res. for resided or residence ; s. for son ; s. p. for without issue (sine prole) ; unm. for unmarried. Where others have been employed it is thought they will explain themselves.

When no state is mentioned, Massachusetts is to be understood, unless from the context some other one is clearly indicated.

TABLES

SHOWING the second to fifth generations of Descendants of Eleazer and Huldah Flagg, in each of the five branches.

Note that these charts contain only those living to-day, or who have descendants now living. In the family history which follows, each person is located by reference to one of these tables, or, if below the fifth generation, by tracing back to an ancestor in that generation.

The serial numbers used in the body of the work are given in parentheses, and married names of women are italicized.

FIRST GENERATION.

FIRST GENERATION.

Eleazer Flagg,* son of Eleazer and Deborah (Tompkins) Flagg, and the third of the name in direct line, was born in Concord, the home of his father and grandfather, 23 October, 1709. In his time the surname was in process of transformation from the earlier Flegg, the form found (with variations, Fleg, Flec, &c.) on the English records back as far as the Norman conquest or before, and uniformly used in this country the first two or three generations. He himself almost invariably employed the form Flagg, as the other members of the family have since his time. His early days were doubtless spent at the ancestral home in Concord, though we have no definite record on this point, or of the exact date of his coming to Hassanamisco,† of which town his father Eleazer Flagg, 2d, was one of the original forty proprietors. Family tradition has it that he was there in 1728, the year of the purchase from the Indians. At first a settler on his father's lands, as were his younger brothers Robert and Nathaniel at the same or a little later period, he became a landholder himself in 1731, as shown by a deed on file in the Worcester County Court House, of which the following is a partial copy :

To all People to whom this present Deed of Gift Shall Come Greeting Know ye that I Eleazer Flagg of Concord in the County of Middle^x: in the province of the Massachusetts Bay in New England Yeoman For and in Consideration of the Love I Bear to my Eldest Son Namely Eleazer Flagg Jun^r. of Hassanamisco in the County of Worcester in the province aforesaid Cordwainer and for other Good Causes me hereunto moveing have Given Granted and Confirmed and by these presents Do fully freely and Clearly Give Grant and Confirm to him ye Said Eleazer Flagg his Heirs and assigns for Ever a tract of Land Scituate in s^d Hassanamisco upland swamp and Medow with a Dwelling house on it: Some part of it plow Land and an Orchard on it on both sides of the Highway Containing by Estimation fifty acres be it More or Less being one of My first Division Lots in hassanamisco and part of My Second Division joyned to it. . . . John Fox jun. } Midd^x s. s. Jan. 29, 1735.

Thomas Stratton } The within named Eleazer Flagg personally appearing acknowledged the within Instrument to be his act and deed Before me John Flint Just. peace.

The land conveyed in this deed comprised the 42 acres of the 18th lot of the 1st division among the proprietors (3 May, 1728) and a part of the 30 acres of the 2d division (21-22 Nov. 1728), as entered in the manuscript volume of "Records of the Proprietors of Hassanamisco." This estate was situated in the Merriam District, eastward of the centre of the town, occupying part of the eastern slope of Chestnut Hill and meadow land beyond.

There is now on exhibition in the rooms of the Worcester Society of Antiquity a large wooden bowl, hewn from a tree on this hill by our ancestor, in 1732, four years after the original settlement. It has been handed down in the family from that day to this, being inherited by the writer from his father in 1900.

In 1745 a substantial farmhouse was erected; the homestead back to which each member of the family mentioned in this book can trace his line. Tradition says that it replaced an older structure of logs, and that the new building was the work of another Flagg, doubtless Robert, Nathaniel or James, brothers of Eleazer, all living in the neighborhood.

After standing for a century the house was torn down in 1845 by the widow of Joseph Flagg who erected another more modern one on the spot (since removed). A little south of the old site Peter Hunt, who was the next owner of the farm, built a substantial brick dwelling which is still standing. The only likeness known of the old house is a painting made about 1845, by Mrs. J. O. Burleigh for Mrs. Maria O. Hunt, from which our frontispiece is copied.

The early settlers of Hassanamisco were not unmindful of religious interests and duties; services seem to have been held very early, and 28 Dec. 1731, a church was organized (parent of the present First Congregational [Unitarian] and Evangelical Congregational societies). Among the 20 signers of the original covenant we find the name of Eleazer Flagg, and in connection therewith the following certificate, the regular formula of the day:

Certified that Eleazar Flagg is a person free from publick Scandall And (in charity) is a person meet for communion w. ye Church

JOHN WHITING, past^r of ye Chh of Concord.

The settlement of Worcester had preceded that of Grafton by a few years, and prominent among the early residents was Capt. Benjamin Flagg, an own cousin of our Eleazer's father. Worcester County was formed in 1731, and its second sheriff was this Capt. Flagg, who held the position 1743-1751, and one of whose acts was to appoint his Grafton kinsman a deputy. The following is a copy of a paper in possession of the compiler:

JOHN CHANDLER } thereto appointed
JOHN RICE } by the Gov

From a memorandum book, still preserved, and other papers, it appears that our ancestor performed the duties of the position to a considerable extent in neighboring towns, serving writs, warrants, etc.

The Flagg place in the Merriam District lay on the main road between southern Worcester Co., and Boston and the towns on the coast. There is in existence a petition presented to the "Justices of the General sessions of the peace for the County of Worcester," Aug. 1756, praying that Eleazer Flagg might be licensed to act as a public innholder, signed by Cornelius Putnam, Richard Waters* and 42 others, resident in Sutton and towns about there. It is believed that such public house was kept for a few years.

His elder son, also named Eleazer, was provided with an estate on George Hill in Grafton, and left home early, dying a young man; but the younger son, Samuel, remained with his parents and took the farm when his father was too old to manage it. The old gentleman was very infirm in his last years; after the marriage of his second daughter, Mary, in 1763, and the death of his wife in 1765, the youngest daughter, Submit, gave him her entire time and attention till the end. He died in Grafton, 8 Aug. 1771.

Eleazer Flagg married at Concord, 28 Sept. 1731, Huldah Chandler,* daughter of Samuel and Dorcas (Buss) Chandler; born Concord, 5 July, 1709. It is probable that she also was a child of one of Grafton's original forty proprietors, though here, as in her husband's case, the fact that father and son bore the same name and were not in any way distinguished in the records, make it possible that her brother Samuel Jr. was the one mentioned as proprietor, as he certainly was the one actually interested in the settlement.

Mrs. Huldah Flagg was received into full communion by the Grafton Church, 20 Feb. 1742. She died 27 Jan. 1765.†

† It is interesting to note that 23 of her descendants have received Chandler as first or middle name; 12 of them in the line of her son Eleazer whose wife was also a Chandler.

SECOND GENERATION.

STEPHEN WATERS HOUSE
WEST SUTTON

SECOND GENERATION.

STEPHEN WATERS, son of Richard* and Anne (Holman) Waters, was born in West Sutton, 13 Apr. 1735. His father, Richard Waters, Jr., set off to him a portion of the estate, southeast of his own homestead. In 1757, according to the History of Sutton, the young man erected upon it the house to which he brought his bride, Huldah Flagg of Grafton, five years later, and which has been the Waters home from that day to this, now owned by his great-grandson, Samuel Nathan Waters; this same land having been handed down from father to son from 1723. Stephen, with his father and brothers, made many trips to Boston to sell their produce. This long drive of forty miles meant good horses and early starts. The best road led through Grafton by the house of Eleazer Flagg, where they often stopped for refreshment for man and beast. So here Stephen met Huldah. He was a strong, large boned man and she was rather small and delicate.

Like others of his family, Stephen Waters was a great cultivator of apples and manufactured cider in considerable quantities. His orchards, still bearing fruit and showing remarkable growth, on the rocky and steep hillside, bear evidence of years of hard work to transform the primeval forest into the largest and best apple orchards in the region. Being a Free-Will Baptist, he did not join the close communion Baptists in Sutton, whose elder for many years was his brother Samuel Waters. He died at W. Sutton, 10 Jan. 1819.

He married at Grafton, 19 May, 1762, Huldah Flagg,² born at Grafton, 14 Dec. 1732. She was an invalid for many years in the latter part of her life; her husband was often seen going to and from the adjoining town of Oxford to borrow the chaise of an aristocratic gentleman, Gen. Davis, to give her a ride. No one in town possessed such a vehicle. Mrs. Waters was a very devout woman, read her Bible almost constantly in her illness until she became blind, and then would have her grandchildren, who affectionately called her "Granny," read it to her. She died in West Sutton, 24 Jan. 1825.

* For ancestry, see Appendix.

Children, all born in W. Sutton :

- vi. REBECCA, b. 25 May, 1775 ; probably d. in childhood (the History of Sutton has it 28 Apr. 1804).

Eleazer Flagg,² the fourth Eleazer Flagg in direct line, was born at Grafton, 12 Nov. 1734. His uncle Nathaniel Flagg of Grafton, 6 May, 1761, conveyed to him a plot of 34 acres and 50 rods on George Hill, Grafton, undoubtedly part of the original share of his grandfather Eleazer Flagg (2d) in 1728. It is evident that the purchase of this place for £120 was really his father's act and part of the latter's plan of providing for his children. He died in Grafton, 10 Feb. 1767.

The widow was appointed administratrix, and the inventory showed a total of £281, 1s. 11d., including about thirty-five acres of land, with buildings, valued at £146, 3s. 4d. 22 Mar. 1768, the Judge of probate allowed her accounts "whereby it appears a Balance Remains in her hands of £75, 18s. 7½d. which she is further to account for & as ye family have been kept together & one of ye Children but about a month old when ye Dec^d Dyed I allow her ye Improvement of ye Real Estate Therefor." In 1772, after the marriage of the widow, Joseph Merriam, Jr., was appointed guardian of the children, and two years later we find him petitioning the Governor and General Court, stating that Eleazer Flagg, Jr., left an estate of about 35 acres "which by reason of the inconvenient circumstances it now is in will not rent annually for perhaps half so much money as the interest of the money said land if sold would fetch and as there is two young children heirs thereto for whom petitioner is guardian," he prayed authority to sell at once. Permission was granted, and accordingly, 11 May, 1776, the place on George Hill was sold for £147, 6s. 8d. to Jeduthan Fay of Westboro. Family tradition has it that payment was deferred, and owing to depreciation of the currency, very little was ever realized by the heirs. At least a part of the land with the house later came into possession of the Forbush family.

The children of Eleazer (4th) finally severed their connection with Grafton by the sale to their uncle Samuel Flagg, 13 Feb. 1806, of the five acre lot which came to them by their grandfather Flagg's will. The deed is signed by Eleazer Flagg of Conway and Isaac and Sarah Dole of Shelburne.

Eleazer Flagg (4th) married, Concord, 8 Dec. 1763, Sarah Chandler,* daughter of James and Mary (Wright) Chandler; born in Concord, 9 Dec. 1742. She married (2d) 31 Mar. 1768, Nathaniel Goddard of Grafton, and removed with him and the children to Conway. (She bore him one child, Mary Goddard, baptized in Grafton 1 July, 1770, and married to Stephen Billings of Conway.) Nathaniel Goddard died 31 Oct. 1815, aged 77. Mrs. Sarah (Chandler) Goddard died in Shelburne, 18 April, 1833, in her 91st year.

Children of Eleazer and Sarah (Chandler) Flagg :

9. i. SARAH, b. 6 Nov. 1764; d. Shelburne, 6 Aug. 1831; m. 1790, Isaac Dole.
10. ii. ELEAZER, b. 10 Jan. 1767; d. Conway, 28 May, 1847; m. 1793, Elizabeth Warren.

BENJAMIN GODDARD,* son of Benjamin and Mary (Kidder) Goddard, was born in Grafton, 4 Nov. 1736. He served as a young man in the Old French and Indian war, and the story is told that he was sentenced to death because an Indian captive left in his charge had escaped; he was later pardoned. At another time, the enemy poisoned the water supply and he and others narrowly escaped death, and suffered long afterward from the effects. During the Revolution he was again in service. The state rolls show him to have been sergeant in Capt. Aaron Kimball's company of minute men, Col. Artemas Ward's regiment, which marched on the alarm 19 April, 1775, and was discharged 18 May, after four weeks' service. It is probable that he was in other commands during the war, and we are informed how during his absence in the army a detachment of British soldiers took possession of his home and ate or carried away nearly everything on the place. He built the old Goddard house, standing on the road to Westboro, a mile and a half from Grafton Centre; torn down about 1865.

He was town clerk 1776-90 and 1793-94, selectman various years between 1777 and 1792, justice of the peace for Worcester Co. after 1789, and otherwise prominent in local affairs. He died in Grafton, 11 Mar. 1806. He married, Grafton, 8 Dec. 1763, Mary Flagg,² born Grafton, 19 Mar. 1740; died 6 Apr. 1824.

Samuel Flagg² was born in Grafton, 5 Dec. 1741. He remained at home with his parents, and on his father's death in 1771, became the owner of the homestead in the Merriam District, Grafton. Here he spent his whole life, known universally as one of the best and most successful farmers in the town. From the fact that he manufactured malt in large quantities, he was often known as "Maltster" Flagg. Of a retiring disposition and without political ambition, he never sought public life, nor held offices except those in his native town, serving as selectman in 1782, 1801 and 1805. In religion, tradition says that he was a Baptist, though his wife was a member of the old Congregational church in Grafton Center, where he himself often attended and where his children were baptized.

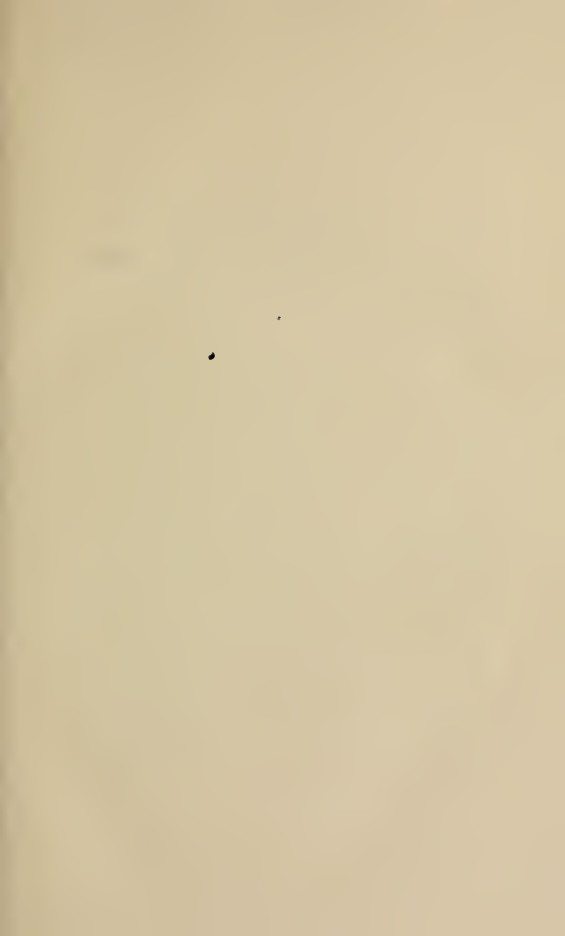

To quote the words of one, George W. Drury, who in youth was his hired man and lived in the family, and who died at 95, "He was the best man, take him all in all, that I ever knew." Mr. Flagg died in Grafton, 17 Oct. 1822.* He married in Grafton, 28 Dec. 1769, Lydia Rockwood,† daughter of Benjamin and Ruth (Adams) Rockwood, born in Upton, 12 Sept. 1751, died in Grafton, 1 Oct. 1824.

DANIEL HAYDEN HOUSE

DANIEL HAYDEN,* son of Elisha and Lydia (Fairbanks) Hayden, was born in Hopkinton, 16 Dec. 1748. He was the owner of considerable real estate in Grafton, and built and occupied the last house on the old Upton road. He and his wife were early members of the Baptist church in town where Mr. Hayden led the singing for many years. After the marriage of their daughter Submit in 1807 and her removal to Vermont, they sold all their property in Grafton the next year and bought a farm on Dog River, Berlin, Vt., a mile and a half from Montpelier. The purchaser of the home in Grafton was Pardon Aldrich, but it was later occupied by Cushman Hayden (not related) and so to older residents of Grafton still known as the "Hayden place" though now more commonly designated by the name of a later occupant, one Leonard. It was the scene of Grafton's most noted crime, the murder of Henry Powers by Jonathan Brooks in 1835.

The new home of the Haydens in Berlin was considered the best farming land in the town and was sold for $18,000 after they left it; is still known as the Hayden farm. The old couple were unfortunately involved in financial misfortune through the business ventures of their son John, and were compelled to give up their place. In Berlin they identified themselves with the Methodist church.

Mr. Hayden was of powerful build and could do a man's work at 80. His grandson James Tufts who knew him in his last years thus described him: "A prodigious worker, strong as a giant and spry as a fox; and full of humor and good nature."

He died in Berlin, Vt., 9 Nov. 1841. He married in Sutton, 9 June, 1773, Submit Flagg³; born in Grafton, 5 Sept. 1744; after the marriage of the older members of the family, she remained on the place with her brother Samuel and cared for their parents in their last years. Was noted in later life for her piety and remarkable knowledge of the Bible. She died in Berlin, 14 Mar. 1839.

THIRD GENERATION.

THIRD GENERATION.

John Waters³ [Table I] ; born in W. Sutton, 23 Oct. 1764. Like his brothers and sisters he was small and weak in infancy, and the story is told how, when he was born, the nurse put him in a two-quart pail and shut the cover. Later he developed into a large, powerful man, over six feet in height. From his father he inherited a large farm ; and devoted himself even more extensively to fruit, so that he was reported to have the largest apple orchards in that part of Mass. He made much cider—the ground about the house was said to be soaked with it. If his grandchildren as babies appeared to like the taste of it, he was sure they were Waters babies. The tall stone posts, which he split out of the solid rock for gate-posts, and which he set in the ground five or six feet, are monuments of his untiring energy. He worked until bed-time and was so unused to sitting still that he could not keep awake in church.

Most of the timber used in building the W. Sutton Baptist church came from his woodland, and old subscription lists show that he was foremost in the support of said church.

When too old and too rheumatic to stand, he sat in his old arm chair (still preserved) and made them bring him wood to saw. And in his very last years, when unable to get around without crutches, it was his custom to take a stool and establish himself under each of his apple trees in turn, and there by means of a hoe and long-handled saw loosen the ground and trim the tops till his critical eye was suited, when he would gather up his tools and move on to the next.

As he had previously provided for his son Stephen, at his death the farm was equally divided between Nathan and Richard, the younger sons. He died in W. Sutton, 19 Oct. 1847. Married 1st, Sutton, 25 Nov. 1790, Huldah Howard, daughter Capt. John and Huldah (Sibley) Howard ; born in Oxford, 23 June, 1768 ; died in W. Sutton, 26 Sept. 1795. Married 2d, Sutton, 15 Dec. 1796,

DANIEL HUNT, son John and Kezia (Darling) Hunt of Gloucester, R. I., born probably in Burrillville, R. I., 1751. Was a farmer, and after his third marriage, about 1804, bought the Ebenezer Waters place in W. Sutton, adjacent to the home of his father-in-law, Stephen Waters, and previously the property of the latter's father, Richard. He held it but a short time, and the estate later passed into the hands of the Bullard family, which still has it. From W. Sutton, Mr. Hunt removed to Douglas where he held considerable land and built a sawmill. While here he left the Baptist church to which he had previously belonged, and joined the Quakers. About 1808, removed to Providence, R. I., to go into the retail grocery business with his brother Seth, but his plans failed through the dishonesty of the man to whom he had sold his Douglas property. Died in Providence, R. I., 30 Oct. 1810. Married 1st, Patty South-

ii. REBECCA, b. Douglas, 28 Dec. 1805. While in her "teens" she joined her mother's church, the Baptists, but in 1835 united with the Friends. The same year, when her husband went out to Ohio to look the ground over, she remained to care for her brother's children, and in removing the following year to the new home, took them along and kept them till he remarried in 1841. She was always a warm friend of the Indians, and in 1849-51, while Mr. Jenks was temporarily in New England, she acted as matron of a girls' school among the Shawnees, about ten miles from the present Kansas City. And in 1869, when her second husband, Dr. Roberts, received appointment as Indian agent, he chose to serve among the Shawnees that she might be near "her children" as she called them.

She was a remarkable woman, and had she received the benefits of more education in youth, must have taken her place among the leading spirits of her time. With New England thrift she had laid aside some property, and it was her pleasure in her last years to help those in need. After Dr. Roberts' death she resided in Oskaloosa, Ia., with her niece Mrs. Coburn and a step-daughter Mrs. Hambleton, save for the years 1893-95 when she was with another niece, Mrs. Gould, in Brewster, Mass.; d. Eleazer Flagg³ [Table II.]; born 10 Jan. 1767. He was but one month old at the time his father's death broke up the home on George Hill, Grafton, and on his mother's second marriage to Nathaniel Goddard he undoubtedly became a member of the latter's household and removed with the family to Conway in the early "seventies." There is a vague family tradition that as a child, he was in or near Lexington on the 19th of April, 1775, and was a witness of the stirring events of that day; and it is not unlikely that he was with his mother's family in the neighborhood of Concord.

He learned the trade of a cabinet maker, but sustained an accidental injury which prevented his following it. Was all his life a farmer in Conway, which at the beginning of the last century was one of the most populous towns in western Mass. Died in Conway, 28 May, 1847. JAMES TUFTS,† son of William and Margaret (Browning) Tufts; born in New Braintree, 30 Sept. 1764. As a young man he adopted the above spelling of the family name in place of the older Tufts. Was graduated A.B. at Rhode Island College (now Brown University) in 1789, and after an interval took up the study of theology with the celebrated Dr. Nathaniel Emmons of Franklin. Receiving calls from two parishes, Leicester, Mass. and Wardsboro, Vt., he accepted the latter and was there ordained to the Congregational ministry 4 Nov. 1795, Dr. Emmons making the three days journey on horseback to preach the ordination sermon. The salary was £60 the first year, to be increased £2 each year till it reached £80, which was to be the permanent amount. Here he continued 42 years as pastor, and as senior pastor five years more. He also kept the first post office in the place, for the three towns of Wardsboro, Stratton and Somerset, and retained the position twenty-nine years. Died in Wardsboro, 11 Aug. 1841. Married in Grafton, 2 Feb. 1807, Submit Hayden³ [Table V.]; born in Grafton, 18 April, 1777. She had an acute, strong mind, and most retentive memory, was quick to learn and was considered as a well educated woman during her life, though having very limited opportunity to attend school. When a young girl she had an ambition to study grammar, but it was not thought best for a girl to do that. Her brother studied with the minister in Upton, and she kept up with him at home until finally she had permission to recite with him, and showed how fully she had mastered † Ancestry: John Tufts¹, b. 1704 of Scotch descent. Came to America between 1725 and 1735 from Ulster, Ireland, and settled in Brookfield. Died 27 Feb. 1795; m. the subject. She began teaching school in 1792, at the age of fifteen, teaching chiefly in Grafton and Upton, receiving fifty cents a week, and more each year, up to one dollar and a half, when, as she remarked, she was ashamed to ask any more, as no other teacher in town received over a dollar a week. When ninety years of age she addressed a teachers' meeting in Vermont, and in the course of her remarks spoke of her first school, seventy-five years before.

After the death of her husband she continued to live in the parsonage with her son John, and after his removal to the West, still for a time resided at the old home, but in 1864 went to live with her daughter, Mrs. Newton, in Newfane, where she died 22 Aug. 1870.

Stephen Waters⁴ [Table I.], was born in West Sutton, 6 Aug. 1797. He was a farmer and miller in West Sutton. Though the eldest son, he had no part of the old family estate, his father having provided otherwise for him during his lifetime. He held town offices. Died in West Sutton, 22 Sept. 1850. He married in Sutton, 5 Dec. 1822, Matilda Carpenter, daughter of Simeon and Sally (Blanchard) Carpenter; born in Sutton, 1 Oct. 1800; she married 2d, 6 Nov. 1867, Rev. Willard Fuller, and died in West Sutton, 1 Dec. 1891.

Children, all born in West Sutton:

- i. JASON, b. 9 Oct. 1824. After leaving school he was for several years engaged in teaching singing. Becoming interested in the anti-slavery movement, his contributions to the press in the years preceding the Civil war attracted the attention of the thinking public. Although not seeking or expecting office he was elected to the General Court for 1862-63 and again 1863-64. Early in his first session, the Military committee unanimously reported a bill appropriating $500,000 for the purchase of small arms for the state troops, limiting choice to the old Springfield pattern. Mr. Waters moved an amendment that said arms should be "of such pattern as the Governor and Council shall deem best adapted to the use for which it is to be applied." This amendment was lost in the lower house, but its author called the matter to the attention of influential senators, with the result that the Senate inserted it in the bill. On its return to the House for concurrence the member from Sutton, on permission from the chair, introduced a number of breech loading rifles and proceeded to demonstrate by actual experiment their immense superiority. This direct proof, backed up by extracts from letters of the fighting generals at the front, carried the day. The House accepted the Senate amendment, a committee was appointed to investigate the matter, and the Spencer repeating rifle was chosen. Thus through the vigilance and pertinacity of the Sutton representative, Massachusetts enjoys the distinction of placing in the hands of her soldiers a weapon superior to any then in use.

Some years after the Civil war, Mr. Waters became editor of the Fall River Daily Times. His health being impaired by the confinement and hard work, he traveled for several commercial houses, visiting various parts of the United States and Canada, and acting as correspondent for a prominent New England journal. For the last twenty years he has resided at West Sutton, where he is known as one of the town's most public spirited citizens; especially is his influence known and felt in all pertaining to education. unm.

EBENEZER SMEAD HAWKS, son of Samuel and Mary (Smead) Hawks; born in Deerfield, 9 Nov. 1788. The second in a family of ten children, with his father in poor circumstances, he was early put to work, on the farm and in the tannery, sawmill and brickyard. Up to the time of his marriage he was the mainstay of the family, and when drafted for service in the War of 1812, his mother's opposition was so strong that he hired a substitute. After marriage it was his purpose to remove to New York state, as so many others of the younger people were doing, but again heeded the protest of his parents and bought a place at Zoar in the town of Charlemont. It had been a public house, and he carried it on for a few years, then built a tannery and sawmill and devoted himself also to farming for the rest of his life. The educational interests of the town demanded his warm support and he was a devoted adherent of the Methodist church. In 1842 he served the town as selectman. Died in Zoar, 17 Sept. 1843 as a result of a kick by a horse. Married in Shelburne, 17 Feb. 1816, Huldah Dole⁴ [Table II.]; born in Shelburne, 23 June, 1791; after his death she continued to live on the old place in Zoar, and died there 23 Jan. 1871.

Eleazer Fletcher Flagg⁴ [Table II.], was born in Conway, 8 Jan. 1800. He went South with his brother Chandler, and Otis Presbrey, afterward his brother-in-law, and traveled from place to place selling merchandise; he seems to have resided permanently in the South after 1823, and eventually bought and cleared a plantation, "Deerfield," in Caroline Co., Va. Though known to have been uniformly kind to his slaves, he was poisoned by his cook, who put pounded glass in some food. It was afterward ascertained that she had poisoned three previous masters. His wife, who was away for the day at the adjacent plantation of her father, "Poplargo," escaped, as also his child William C., who refused to touch the food offered; but he himself died from the effects, 4 Sept. 1831. He married, at "Poplargo," Caroline Co., Va., 18 Dec., 1828, Elizabeth Turner Burruss, daughter of Harris and Elizabeth (Redd) Burruss; born at "Poplargo," 22 Dec. 1807. She mar-

SAMUEL WARREN, son of Levi and Anna (Nichols) Warren, was born in Litchfield, Herkimer Co., N. Y., 28 Oct. 1797. At the age of ten, he was left fatherless, and three years later walked above 100 miles to Jefferson Co., N. Y., to some relatives, where he found a home for his mother. Speaking in later life of the trials of his early years, he was wont to say that he had a large penny which he always kept in his pocket, so that no one could say he was "not worth a cent," but it was all he had many times. In 1817 he removed to York, Livingston Co., N. Y., where he had in the preceding year purchased 33 acres of land. Upon this he built a log dwelling and the first saw-mill in that part of the town. Here he planted an extensive vineyard on the banks of the stream, and turned his attention largely to horticulture. In 1832, he began the manufacture of pure wine for medicinal and sacramental purposes. The product, which was 20 gallons the first year, in 1858 amounted to 3400 gallons, and had won a reputation from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The last six years of his life he was entirely helpless, but the mind was clear to the last. He died in York, 14 Sept. 1862. He married in York, N. Y., 30 Nov. 1826, Sarah Flagg⁴ [Table II.], born in Conway, 27 July, 1801; died in York, 30 Dec. 1881.

As a student he acquired a reputation as a poet and deep thinker; was also known as an orator, and on graduation from college was at once invited by the New England Anti-Slavery Society to become one of their lecturers. For three years he taught a grammar school in Essex Co., Va., studying law at the same time. March 1, 1843, was admitted to the bar at Richmond, Va. In the fall of the same year, finding the slavery sentiments of Virginia distasteful, he went West and made his residence in Lasalle Co., Ill. At the outbreak of the war with Mexico, he assisted in the organization of a company, which became Co. I of Col. J. J. Hardin's 1st Illinois regiment. Mr. Holbrook was commissioned 1st lieutenant and participated in the campaigns of this command, being at the battle of Buena Vista and other engagements. Returning to Illinois, he published the "Peru Telegraph," a Free-soil weekly paper, 1848-51, and on the organization of the Republican party he warmly espoused its principles. In 1865 he transferred his law office to Chicago; five years later he removed his family to Joliet, and there opened a branch office, but returned to Chicago in Nov. 1875, where he thenceforth made his home. His specialty was real estate law, in which branch he was known as an eminent authority. Was a valued contributor in prose and verse to current literature. A selection of his writings was published after his death by his daughter: "Poems by Edmund S. Holbrook. Chicago, 1898." He died in Chicago, 1 Nov. 1897. He married in Racine, Wis., 25 Nov. 1852, Ann Case, daughter of Caleb and Deborah (Jackson) Case; born in Oswego Co., N. Y., 22 Sept. 1827; died in Chicago, Ill., 16 May, 1882.

SAMUEL BENJAMIN FLAGG

JONATHAN CHESTER FORBUSH, son of Silas and Clarissa (Eames) Forbush; born in Grafton, 14 July, 1825. He resided with his father on his farm, George Hill, Grafton, until he was twenty years of age, when he removed to the centre of the town and entered the shoe manufactory of his uncle Calvin W. Forbush. In 1852 he formed a partnership with Nathaniel Brown under the firm name Forbush & Brown, of which firm his cousin Justin Forbush was also a member till his death in 1859. In the spring of 1853 they moved their shop to Buffalo, N. Y., where Mr. Forbush continued to reside the rest of his life. In business the firm was very successful, and for a number of years after the retirement of his partner, Mr. Forbush was sole proprietor.

Of that strength and ruggedness of character which has been always a distinguishing mark of the sons of New England, he was thoroughly devoted to home and family, loyal to his faith as a life-long and active member of the Church of Our Father (Unitarian), and in politics a stalwart Republican. Died in Buffalo, N. Y., 19 Sept. 1901. He married in Grafton, 31 May, 1848, Susan Caroline Flagg⁴ [Table IV.], born in Grafton, 23 Oct. 1826. All pertaining to her church and general philanthropic work in Buffalo claimed her interest; for thirty years she served on the board of managers of the Home for the Friendless. Died in Halifax, 10 Aug. 1894.

Children :

172. i. FLORENCE CAROLINE, b. Grafton, 12 Mar. 1854; m. 1884, Henry R. Bird.
- ii. GRACE CHESTER, b. Buffalo, N. Y., 25 July, 1873; res. Buffalo. unm.

Samuel Benjamin Flagg⁴ [Table IV.]; born at the old homestead, Grafton, 6 Aug. 1828. Left fatherless at thirteen, he resolved to use his patrimony in preparing himself for life's work, going away to school first at Bolton, and later at Leicester Academy and Quaboag Seminary, Warren. On finishing his preparatory studies in 1846, he entered the freshman class at Brown University, where he was graduated A.B. in 1850.

Hampered in choice of a profession by a vocal trouble, he turned to medicine, studying with Dr. Henry Parker of his native place and attending courses of lectures at Vermont Medical School, Woodstock, and Berkshire Medical Institution, Pittsfield. At the latter school he received the degree M.D. in 1854, and began the practice of his profession in Boston.

At length a successful course of treatment for his voice left him free to follow natural inclination, and he entered the Meadville Theological School at Meadville, Penn. At the completion of the course here in 1858 he began his real life work in the Unitarian ministry, going first to Kalamazoo, Mich., where under his efforts a church was organized.

After remaining six years and seeing the society well established, he returned to his native New England, where he held the following pastorates: Waltham, 1865-69, Sandwich, 1869-70, Bernardston, 1873-84, Bridgewater, 1884-85, Green Harbor, 1887-91, Dixfield, Maine, 1891-92, Sandwich, a second time, 1893-98. On resigning from his last charge, in gratification of an oft-expressed wish he returned to end his days in his native town. Died in Grafton 16 Nov. 1900.

In his makeup were found the best characteristics of the old New England stock — a high sense of honor, lack of ostentation, and a sturdy independence that never accepted any teaching, religious, political or other, because it was labeled orthodox, and never feared to stand alone. That reverence for authority which will palliate or uphold injustice, found in him no advocate, and the question of right was ever one in which the personality or status of the parties weighed nothing at all.

He was a lover of nature — long rambles over hill and forest were his delight; and the farm training of boyhood left its trace in a fondness for outdoor country life.

A modest man, he never took the place in his profession to which his abilities entitled him; all self advertisement and that striving after popularity, which is so much in evidence even in the pulpit to-day, were equally abhorrent to him.

In his religious nature, the most marked peculiarity was his devotional fervor; in the words of a brother minister, "Some one has said that a Methodist heart and a Unitarian head in the same person would make the best kind of a Christian; Mr. Flagg had them both."

While ever active in the interest of his church, it was as no mere sectarian; everywhere he was on closest terms with the ministers of other faiths, and especially in his last years nothing interested him more than the signs of growing charity and co-operation between denominations, a movement he had no small share in promoting.

He married in Kalamazoo, Mich., 29 Dec. 1869, Anna Bigelow Allcott, daughter of William W. and Deborah B. (Bangs) Allcott, and widow of E. Marvin T. Silliman. She was born in Rochester, N. Y., 8 Aug. 1842. Everywhere in her husband's pastorates she proved herself a most efficient helpmeet, and especially among the needy and unfortunate did she find her sphere of usefulness. She died in Grafton, 6 May, 1900.

Children :

173. i. CHARLES ALLCOTT, b. Sandwich, 1 Oct. 1870; m. 1900, Harriett D. Valentine.
- ii. GEORGE CHANNING, b. Wollaston Heights, Quincy, 6 Nov. 1872. He was a printer in Boston, 1890-93; went on a ranch in Oregon in 1893, and has since lived in San Francisco, Paso Robles and Los Angeles, Cal., working as a hotel clerk and in other occupations. Is at present a salesman in San Francisco. m. San Rafael, Cal., 9 Jan. 1902, Frances Adelaide Jackson, dau. Henry and Maria Adelaide (Rodriguez) Jackson; b. Watsonville, Cal., 24 July, 1873.

James Tufts⁴ [Table V.]; born in Wardsboro, Vt., 2 Nov. 1812. When seventeen years of age he taught a school of fifty-five pupils in his native town and was most successful. May, 1833, he attended Burr Seminary, Manchester, Vt., remaining as student and teacher till Nov. 1835, when he entered the sophomore class at Yale. Before graduation he took a school in Fairfield, Conn., which he taught two years, returning to college to receive his degree of A.B. with his class in 1838. April, 1840, entered Andover Theological Seminary, but the following year was obliged to leave owing to a serious throat trouble which was never permanently removed. Nevertheless he continued his studies at home, entered the ministry and was ordained at Wardsboro, 24 Sept. 1844. After preaching a short time at Chillicothe, O., he found himself definitely obliged to relinquish hope of activity in his chosen field.

Turning to educational work, he was elected superintendent of schools of Windham Co. Vt., serving two years most acceptably, taught in Wardsboro and Northampton, Mass., and in 1852 took the principalship of Monson Academy which he held till failing health compelled his resignation in 1859. His hold as a teacher on the affection and respect of his pupils is shown by the fact that twenty-five years after this resignation, they raised a fund of $400 for a portrait of him to hang in the Academy.

James Lupton

After his resignation, health was in time restored, but he did not again attempt public service in any capacity. With undiminished interest in the work of education, he took to private teaching, taking a few boys or young men into his family. In addition to this he frequently spoke in public and wrote for the press. Died in Monson, 29 April, 1901.* He married, Brooklyn, N. Y., 21 March, 1855, Mary Elizabeth Warren, daughter of Dr. John Parker and Lucy M. (Wheelock) Warren; born in Wardsboro, Vt., 9 Aug. 1823. Like her husband she has been a successful teacher; resides in Monson.

APPENDIX.

THE FLAGG ANCESTRY.

[Material gathered chiefly from Bond's "Family Memorials . . . Watertown"; "Concord, Massachusetts. Births, Marriages and Deaths"; Fuller's "Eleazer Flagg of Concord, Mass., and His Descendants" (in the Maine Genealogist and Biographer for March, 1877); North's "History of Augusta (Maine)."]

I.

THOMAS FLEGG,* son of Bartholomew and Alicia (——) Flagg; baptized at Whinbergh, County Norfolk, England, in 1615. He came to this country with Richard Carver in 1637, embarking at Scratby, Norfolk.

Though not among the first proprietors of the town of Watertown, his name is found on the records as early as 1641; appears as owner of a "homestall" of 6 acres, also a lot of 20 acres which had been originally granted to one John Rose in the "1st great dividend," 25 July, 1636. Thomas Flagg seems to have been a man of some prominence in the town; was selectman 1671-76, '78, '81, '85-87. As far as is known he was ancestor of all bearing the name in this country. Died 6 Feb. 1697-8. Married Mary ——, who died 30 Dec. 1702.

Children :

- i. GERSHOM, b. Watertown, 16 Apr. 1641; was a tanner; removed to Woburn about 1668. He held a commission as lieutenant in King William's war and was killed by the Indians in a skirmish at Wheelwright's Pond (Lee, N. H.), 6 July, 1690. m. 1668, Hannah Leppingwell. (7 sons, 3 dau.)
- ii. JOHN, b. Watertown, 14 June, 1643; res. Watertown; d. 6 Feb. 1696-7. m. 1670, Mary Gale. (1 son, 2 dau.)
- iii. BARTHOLOMEW, b. Watertown, 23 Feb. 1644-5; served in Capt. Samuel Moseley's company in King Philip's war, 1675. Probably d. before 1697, as he is not mentioned in his father's

* Flagg is the English form of the name, still adhered to by our cousins in the mother country and followed here for the first 80 or 100 years. For the ancestry of Thomas Flagg, reference is made to a tabular pedigree by Miss Harriet A. Bainbridge of London, printed in North's History of Augusta, Maine. The line is carried back without a break to William Flagg who died 1426; also mention made of various Fleggs and De Fleggs of earlier date.

In the 12th and 13th centuries the head of the family was lord of the manor of Flagg Hall, in Winterton, Hundred of East Flagg, Co. Norfolk.

- will of that year. No record that he was married; and in 1725 his only surviving brother Benjamin was granted a share in the Narragansett townships, in his right.
- iv. THOMAS, b. Watertown, 28 Apr. 1646; res. Watertown and d. there, 1719. m. 1667-8, Rebecca Dix. (1 son, 5 dau.)
 - v. WILLIAM, b. 1648? No entry has been found of his birth, nor is there direct evidence that he was a son; however, Bond and Fuller both agree in including him in this family. He was detailed as a soldier on guard duty at Lancaster at the time of King Philip's war, and killed by the Indians in the massacre of 22 Aug. 1675.
 - vi. MICHAEL, b. Watertown, 23 Mar. 1650-51; res. Watertown. Was one of the proprietors in the first attempted settlement of Worcester, in 1674; served in King Philip's war. Lived afterwards in Watertown where he d. 16 Oct. 1711. m. 1st, 1674, Mary Bigelow (1 son, 2 dau.); m. 2d, 1704, Mary (Lawrence) Earle. (2 sons, 1 dau.)
 - vii. ELEAZER, b. Watertown, 14 May, 1653. [See below.]
 - viii. ELIZABETH, b. Watertown, 22 Mar. 1654-5; d. 9 Aug., 1729; m. 1676, Joshua Bigelow.
 - ix. MARY, b. Watertown, 14 Jan. 1656-7; d. 7 Sept. 1720; m. 1674, Samuel Bigelow.
 - x. REBECCA, b. Watertown, 5 Sept. 1660; d. 1721; m. 1679, Deacon Stephen Cook.
 - xi. BENJAMIN, b. Watertown, 25 June, 1662; rem. to Worcester at the time of the third and final settlement of that town in 1718; was a prominent man among the early residents; d. Worcester, 3 May, 1741. m. 1689 or '90, Experience Child. (5 sons, 4 dau.)
 - xii. ALLEN, b. Watertown, 16 May, 1665; res. Watertown; d. Nov. 1711. m. 1684-5, Sarah Ball. (3 sons, 6 dau.)

II.

ELEAZER FLEGG, born in Watertown, 14 May, 1653. He removed to Concord; was a tanner. Like at least three of his brothers he served in King Philip's war, being in Capt. Samuel Appleton's company in the Narragansett expedition of 1675. Was admitted freeman 20 March, 1690; held town offices. He died in Concord, 1 May, 1722. Married, Concord, 10 Oct. 1676, Deborah Wright* (whose first husband, John Barnes, had been killed by Indians in the Sudbury fight 31 March, 1676). Her parentage is not quite certain; she may have been a daughter of Edward and Elizabeth Wright of Concord.

Children:

- i. DEBORAH, b. Concord, 9 Oct. 1677.

*The entry on the Concord records reads: "Eliazar flacke and Debra Barnes married 10 Octo. 1676."

- ii. ABIGAIL, b. Concord, 9 Mar. 1679-80; d. there, 11 Aug. 1680.
- iii. ELEAZER, b. about 1687. [See below.]
- iv. PRISCILLA, b. ———; m. 1705, Joseph Wheat of Concord.
- v. JOSEPH, b. ———; m. 1713, Mary Tompkins of Salem. (4 sons, 4 dau.)

III.

ELEAZER FLEGG (2d), born about 1687. Lived in Concord, where he was constable and surveyor of highways. He was one of the original forty purchasers of Hassanamisco (Grafton). On the various divisions of the land among the proprietors, 1728-1744, he received parcels aggregating about 150 acres. There is no evidence that he himself ever lived in the new town, but unlike some others, his interest was not that of a speculator in land. The following deeds of gift are on file in the Worcester Co. court house: To his son Eleazer Flagg, 50 acres, 17 Nov. 1731; To his son Robert Flagg, 34 acres, 26 Jan. 1737-8; To his son Nathaniel Flagg, 43½ acres, 7 Feb. 1744.

Eleazer the father was also a petitioner for the Narragansett townships, as eldest male heir of his father, and on the setting apart of these lands by the General Court in 1733 his name is found as a grantee of Narragansett No. 6 (now Templeton); also the entry that he received lot 94W in the division of that township in 1735.

He died in Concord 28 March, 1745, in his 59th year.

Married, Concord, 26 Jan. 1708-9, Deborah Tompkins, daughter of John, Jr. and Rebecca (Knight) Tompkins, born in Salem, 8 Jan. 1688-9; died in Grafton, 16 Dec. 1753.

Children:

- i. ELEAZER, 3d, b. Concord, 23 Oct. 1709; m. Huldah Chandler. [See p. 11.]
- ii. NATHAN, no record of birth found. He was of Concord; bought real estate in Grafton from Jonathan Rolf of that place, 15 Apr. 1754. He is probably the Nathan Flagg who d. in the district of Carlisle, Concord, 9 Dec. 1755. Nathaniel Flagg was appointed administrator and gave bonds 12 Jan. 1756. It is evident that he left no wife or children, as the court, in appointing a committee of appraisal, added these instructions: "When you have thus perfected your inventory you are to divide the same among the Brothers and Sisters of the dec^d. & to the heirs of such as are dec^d." Heirs were brothers Eleazer, Robert, Nathaniel and James; sisters Abigail Rolf and Elizabeth Nelson; also Sarah Whittemore, daughter of Deborah Whittemore, a deceased sister.
- iii. ROBERT, b. Concord, 25 Aug. 1713. Rem. to Grafton about 1735 and received from his father a grant of 34 acres on George Hill in 1737-8. m. Miriam ———. (4 sons, 3 dau.)

- iv. NATHANIEL, b. Concord, 21 May, 1716. He also received a gift of land in Grafton from his father, $43\frac{1}{2}$ acres in 1744, and afterwards rem. to that town. Was a soldier at Crown Point, 1755. Sold 34 acres to his nephew Eleazer Flagg (4th), in 1761; d. before 1786. m. Elizabeth ———. (2 sons, 7 dau.)
- v. DEBORAH, b. Concord, 13 Feb. 1718-9; d. before 1757; m. Concord, 19 Oct. 1749, Jacob Whittemore of Concord.
- vi. JAMES, b. Concord, 3 May, 1723; rem. to Upton about 1750 and to Wilmington, Vt., 1783; d. 1807. m. Anna Morse of Cambridge. (7 sons, 1 dau.)
- vii. JONATHAN, b. Concord, 3 Feb. 1725-6; d. Bolton, 26 Sept. 1747.
- { viii. ABIGAIL, b. Concord, 25 Jan. 1728-9; m. Jonathan Rolf of Westboro.
- { ix. ELIZABETH, b. Concord, 25 Jan. 1728-9; m. ——— Nelson.

THE CHANDLER ANCESTRY.

[Chiefly from data furnished by Prof. Charles H. Chandler, of Ripon, Wis.]

I.

ROGER CHANDLER,* one of a company of twenty from the Plymouth colony who settled in Concord about 1658. He was apparently a mechanic in several lines; admitted freeman 24 May, 1682. Died in Concord, 11 Jan. 1716-17, aged "about 80" according to his gravestone. He married, Concord, 25 April, 1671, Mary Simonds of Concord [probably the daughter of William and Judith (Phippen) Simonds; born 9 Dec. 1647]. She died in Concord, 29 Aug. 1728.

Children :

- i. MARY, b. Concord, 7 Jan. 1671-2; d. there, 14 Aug. 1759; m. 1690, Lieut. John Heald.
- ii. SAMUEL, b. Concord, 3 Mar. 1673-4. [See below.]
- iii. JOSEPH, b. Concord, 7 Oct. 1678; d. there, 14 Nov. 1679.
- iv. ABIGAIL, b. Concord, 31 May, 1681; d. there, 29 Mar. 1766; m. Eleazer Brown of Concord.
- v. HEPZIBETH; record of birth not found; m. 1st, 1701, Ephraim Jones; m. 2d, 1711, Joseph Fletcher of Concord and Acton, who d. 1746; m. 3d, ——— Stow.

II.

SAMUEL CHANDLER, born in Concord, 3 March, 1673-4. He was a prominent citizen of Concord, serving as selectman, 1718-24, 30-36, '39, town treasurer, 1723-27, and representative 1729-36, '39. He was active in the purchase of Hassanamisco [Grafton] from the Indians in 1728, being one of the 40 proprietors; was also an early petitioner for the grant of the Narragansett townships,

*Nothing is definitely known regarding his parentage. He was perhaps son of Roger Chandler, a clothmaker from Colchester, England, who married in Leyden, Holland, 27 July, 1615, Isabell Chilton from Canterbury, England. She was a daughter of James Chilton of the "Mayflower," and was baptized in St. Paul's church, Canterbury, 15 Jan. 1586-7. This Roger Chandler's name is found on a tax list in Plymouth 1632-3; he died before 1665, leaving three daughters in the colony.

to survivors of King Philip's war, in the right of his father-in-law, Joseph Buss, who had been a member of Capt. Nathaniel Davenport's company in that war. In the records of Narragansett No. 6, now Templeton, granted by the General Court in 1733, his name occurs, also in the drawing of lots among the proprietors in 1735. There is, however, no evidence that he ever gave up his residence in Concord, where he died, 27 April, 1743. Married, Concord, 11 Dec. 1695, Dorcas Buss, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth (Jones) Buss; born in Concord, 26 Jan. 1672-3; died 13 Jan. 1757.

Children, all born in Concord:

- i. ELIZARETH, b. 6 Oct. 1696; d. 18 Oct. 1712.
- ii. MARY, b. 22 Sept. 1699; d. before 1773; m. 1st, 1718, Joseph Dudley; m. 2d, 1752, Judah Clark of Lexington.
- iii. JOSEPH, b. 11 Oct. 1701; d. Concord, 31 Jan. 1746.
- iv. SAMUEL, b. 19 Oct. 1704; was a farmer in Concord; will probated 17 Nov. 1754; m. about 1730, Dinah ———. (7 sons and 2 dau.)
- v. JOHN, b. 11 Jan. 1706-7; d. Concord, 3 May, 1730.
- vi. HULDAH, b. 5 July, 1709; m. Eleazer Flagg (3d). [See p. 11-16.]
- vii. REBECCA, b. 2 Dec. 1711; m. 1731, Eleazer Davis of Bedford.
- viii. JAMES, b. 28 Aug. 1714. [See below.]

III.

JAMES CHANDLER, born Concord, 28 Aug. 1714. He lived in Concord; was a member of the "Committee of Correspondence" in 1774, and the military stores whose seizure was one of the objects of the expedition of the British to Concord, 19 Apr. 1775, were in part in his care at that time. He died 8 Dec. 1792. Married, 1st, 1737, Mary Wright, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth (——) Wright; born in Concord, 9 April, 1720; died there, 4 May, 1746. (1 son, 1 dau.) Married 2d, Concord, 2 July, 1747, Mary Flagg, daughter of Joseph and Mary (Tompkins) Flagg; born Concord, 21 Jan. 1716-17; died there, 22 May, 1753. (2 sons.) He married 3d, 1756, Mary Whittaker of Carlisle. (1 dau.)

Children, by first wife, both born in Concord:

- i. JAMES, b. 13 Dec. 1740. He was a farmer in New Ipswich, N. H., after 1765, member of the "Committee of Correspondence, Inspection and Safety" 1776, selectman 1777-9, and deacon for many years. d. 10 May, 1824. m. 1st, 1765, Mary Melvin; m. 2d, about 1808, Delia (Blanchard) Heald.
- ii. SARAH, b. 9 Dec. 1742; m. 1st, 1763, Eleazer Flagg (4th); m. 2d, 1768, Nathaniel Goddard. [See p. 20-21.]

THE WATERS ANCESTRY.

THE GODDARD ANCESTRY.

[Derived principally from Bond's "Family Memorials . . . Watertown"; Goddard's "Genealogy of the Descendants of Edward Goddard"; Hudson's "History of the Town of Marlborough"; Pierce's "History of Grafton"; Ward's "History of Shrewsbury."]

I.

WILLIAM GODDARD, son of Edward* and Priscilla (D'Oyley) Goddard, was a citizen and grocer of London. Removed to New England 1665, and settled in Watertown, his wife and children coming over the following year. He was admitted freeman Dec. 1677. Was employed by the town to instruct children in the Latin tongue. Died 6 Oct. 1691. He married Elizabeth Miles, daughter of Benjamin Miles of London. She died 8 Feb. 1697-8. They are reported to have had 6 children born in London and 6 more in New England; 3 sons among the former and 4 sons and 1 daughter of the latter surviving infancy. Fifth surviving child was

II.

BENJAMIN GODDARD, born in Watertown, 17 Aug. 1668. He was a carpenter; resided in Cambridge, the latter part of his life in Charlestown (though the locality is now included in the town of Cambridge). Died in Charlestown, 24 Aug. 1748. He married 1st, 30 May, 1689, Martha Palfrey, daughter of John and Rebecca (Bordman) Palfrey of Cambridge; born 18 May, 1670; died 27 Nov. 1737. He married 2d, 1738, Anne Oldham. No issue by second wife. 8 children, of whom the 5th child and 3d son was

III.

BENJAMIN GODDARD, born in Cambridge, 8 Aug. 1705. He was a housewright; removed to Grafton, where he was an early settler though not among the 40 proprietors. Was one of the original 20 members of the Grafton church, 28 Dec. 1731. He died in Cambridge, while on a visit, 9 Dec. 1759. Married, Cambridge, 9 Dec. 1731, Mary Kidder, daughter of Samuel and Sarah (Griggs) Kidder of Cambridge; born 5 June, 1707; died 4 April, 1792.

5 sons and 4 daughters, among whom were

* Edward Goddard was a wealthy farmer in England. Lost his property in the Civil war, in which he was an adherent of the Parliamentary party.

II.

EDWARD GODDARD, born in Watertown, 24 March, 1674-5. He was by trade a weaver; was a schoolmaster in Watertown, 1697-1707, in Boston 1707-14, and after the last date removed to Framingham, where he taught the first grammar school for several years. Was selectman 10 years, town clerk 18 years, representative 8 years, and a member of the Council for 3 years beginning 1733. He was a man of extensive learning and a ready writer; left many papers and some published works. He died 9 Feb. 1754. Married, June 1697, Susanna Stone, daughter of Simon and Mary (Whipple) Stone; born 4 Nov. 1675; died in Framingham, 4 Feb. 1754. 11 children, of whom the 1st was

III.

EDWARD GODDARD, born in Watertown, 4 May, 1698. Was one of the first proprietors of Shrewsbury, where he had a farm of 300 acres. Died in Shrewsbury, 13 Oct. 1777. He married Hepzibah Hapgood, daughter of Thomas and Judith (——) Hapgood; born in Marlboro, 27 June, 1704; died 19 July, 1763.

LEVI GODDARD, born in Petersham, 25 July, 1772; married Mary Goddard. [See p. 31.]

THE ROCKWOOD ANCESTRY.

[Derived principally from Jameson's "History of Medway"; Morse's "Genealogy of the Descendants of Several Ancient Puritans"; Tilden's "History of the Town of Medfield."]

I.

RICHARD ROCKWOOD.* Nothing definite is known of his parentage and early home; it is quite probable that he came from Weymouth, Dorsetshire, Eng., as he was associated with others from that locality. Was a planter in Dorchester before 1636 and later removed to Braintree, where he had a grant of land for 5 heads, 24 Feb. 1639-40. Died 1660. Little is known regarding his two wives. The first, Mrs. Agnes Rockwood, is thought to have been a daughter of Zachary Bicknell; she died in Braintree, 9 May, 1643. Richard Rockwood's second wife was Anne ———, who died, Feb. 1664. He had three and perhaps more children, among them

II.

NICHOLAS ROCKWOOD, born as early as 1628. Removed from Braintree to Medfield before 1662; took freeman's oath 23 May, 1666. He was a prosperous farmer; was burned out by the Indians in King Philip's war in 1676. Died 26 Jan. 1680. He married 1st, Jane Adams, who died 15 Dec. 1654 (3 sons). Married 2d, 16 July, 1656, Margaret Holbrook, probably daughter of John of Weymouth, the immigrant. She died 23 April, 1670 (3 sons, 1 dau.). He married 3d, 1675, Silence Duntling, who died 9 Nov. 1677. (1 son.)

Of his 8 children, the 6th child and 5th son was

*For the first century after the appearance of the family in this country the name as it appears on the public records is almost uniformly written "Rockett." Abner Morse, the genealogist, states that this was in accordance with the pronunciation; but that the earliest generations at least, signed themselves Rockwoods. Rockwood is a common surname in England, while Rockett is nearly or quite unknown.

III.

JOHN ROCKWOOD, born in Medfield, 12 Feb. 1662. He inherited the homestead in Medfield; was constable 1709. When the town of Medway was set off from Medfield in 1713 his estate lay in the new town, of which he was elected first town clerk. Morse says "He was styled Rev. on the records, probably from his speaking in religious assemblies, for I can find no evidence that he was ever ordained or otherwise licensed to preach than by common consent." Died in Medway, 16 Dec. 1746. Married 1st, 19 July, 1688, Bethia Twitchell, daughter of Benjamin and Mary (——) Twitchell of Dorchester. She died 1 Jan. 1706-7. He married 2d, 1710, Sarah Adams, daughter of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Fussell) Adams; b. Medfield, 6 Dec. 1667; died there, 17 May, 1758.

8 children (all by first wife) of whom the 5th child and 4th son was

IV.

BENJAMIN ROCKWOOD, born in Medfield, 19 Nov. 1697. He lived in Medway; later in Grafton, with or near his son. Date of removal is unknown, but his signature as a witness of Eleazer Flagg's will, in 1762, would seem to indicate a residence there at that time. Died 6 June, 1777. He married Rachel Morse, daughter of Benoni and Rachel (Bullard) Morse; born in Medfield, 30 May, 1702; died 8 March, 1778.

3 children, of whom the 2d child and only son was

V.

BENJAMIN ROCKWOOD, born 18 Nov. 1723. He removed as early as 1751 from Medway to Upton, where his father's youngest brother John Rockwood seems to have lived. About 1760 he moved to Grafton and bought (from the original Indian owners, according to family tradition) a farm in the Merriam district, adjoining that of Eleazer Flagg. Three generations of his descendants lived here, until it was sold by his great grandson John Rockwood about 1855. He died in Grafton, 13 Jan. 1801. Married, 17 May, 1750, Ruth Adams, daughter of Daniel and Sarah (Sanford) Adams; born in Medway, 6 March, 1728-9; was admitted to the Grafton church, 26 Feb. 1775; died 22 Jan. 1817.

8 children, of whom the eldest was

VI.

LYDIA ROCKWOOD, born in Upton, 12 Sept. 1751; married Samuel Flagg. [See p. 22.]

THE HAYDEN ANCESTRY.

[From data furnished by the late Josiah Hayden Drummond of Portland, Maine.]

I.

JOHN HAYDEN, the first of this line in America, had a grant of land in Dorchester in 1632, was admitted freeman 15 May, 1634. He removed to Braintree before 1651; will dated 31 Oct. 1678 and probated 26 July, 1682. Married Susanna ———.

They had 6 sons and 1 daughter; eldest child was

II.

JOHN HAYDEN, born (probably in Dorchester) between May 1634 and May 1635. Lived in Braintree, and died 1718. He married, 6 April, 1660, Hannah Ames, daughter of William and Hannah (——) Ames of Braintree; born 12 May, 1641; died in Braintree, 3 July, 1690.

3 sons and 5 daughters, among whom was

III.

JOSIAH HAYDEN, born in Braintree, 14 June, 1669. He removed to Sudbury before 1700; died ———. Married Elizabeth Goodenow, daughter of John, Jr. and Mary (——) Goodenow.

Among their children was

IV.

ELISHA HAYDEN, born in Sudbury about 1699. Was a farmer; resided in Hopkinton after 1730. Died 1758. He married Lydia Fairbanks, daughter of George and Lydia (Gay) Fairbanks of Sherborn and Holliston. She was born 13 Nov. 1710; and died 1765.

12 children, of whom the 10th child and 4th son was

V.

DANIEL HAYDEN, born in Hopkinton, 16 Dec. 1748; married Submit Flagg. [See p. 23.]

INDEX.

INDEX OF NAMES.

Descendants of Eleazer and Huldah Flagg in ordinary type; also their husbands and wives. All others in italics. Married women are entered but once—under maiden name if that is known. In case of two or more of the same name, dates of birth have been added to distinguish, if at hand or easily obtained. References are to pages.
